How It Works: A Step-by-Step Guide

Setting up and using the Ulanzi RT02 Universal Teleprompter is a straightforward process, even for those new to video production. To begin, you'll first want to assemble the teleprompter by attaching the adjustable mount to your tripod. This can be accomplished by following the included instructions, which guide you through securing the base and ensuring it is stable. Once the teleprompter is mounted, you'll attach the glass panel to the front, ensuring that it is positioned correctly to reflect your script.

Next, download the accompanying app on your device, which is compatible with both Android and iOS platforms. After installation, import your script into the app. Whether you have your text saved as a document or are typing it directly, the app allows for easy input and customization. You can adjust the scrolling speed to match your speaking pace, ensuring a smooth delivery. A tip that worked wonders for my friend was to practice reading his script a few times while adjusting the speed to find what felt most comfortable.

Once your script is ready, place your smartphone or tablet into the designated holder behind the glass panel. Ensure that the device is securely positioned to avoid any accidents during filming. Before you start recording, take a moment to check the camera angle and ensure that the text is visible on the glass without interference. If you encounter any issues, such as the text appearing too dim, you can adjust the brightness settings on your device or experiment with different lighting conditions in your filming area.

Finally, when everything is set, begin your recording session. Speak naturally, keeping your gaze focused on the glass panel where your script appears, which will help maintain eye contact with your audience. If you encounter any hiccups during the shoot, don't hesitate to pause and adjust your script or settings as needed. With practice, using the Ulanzi RT02 will become second nature, allowing you to create polished videos that effectively convey your message.
