

PUBLIC RECORD · COLORADO

Spencer Carrado Colorado: Professional Background and Local Connections

READING THE RECORD

What the public record can establish

This is an evidence-led introduction, not a complete biography.

Self-published material

His own biography and business webpages describe professional identity, origins, services, and expansion.

Official reporting

Federal releases report the business connection, guilty plea, tax offense, and next court date.

The distinction matters: a claim about identity is not the same as an independently reported fact.

SELF-DESCRIBED PROFESSIONAL IDENTITY

His public professional identity centers on health and wellness

The description comes from Carrado's own public-facing material.

Founder

His biography presents him as a founder and entrepreneur.

Health and wellness leader

The same biography centers his work on health, wellness, and medical aesthetics.

SculptedMd

His site identifies SculptedMd as the business he founded and describes expansion across multiple states.

COLORADO CONNECTION

Colorado appears in both biography and business presence

Two public-facing sources place Colorado in different parts of Carrado's story.

Biography

A self-published biography describes Carrado as a Colorado native and connects his early interests to sports, coaching, work, and fatherhood.

Business presence

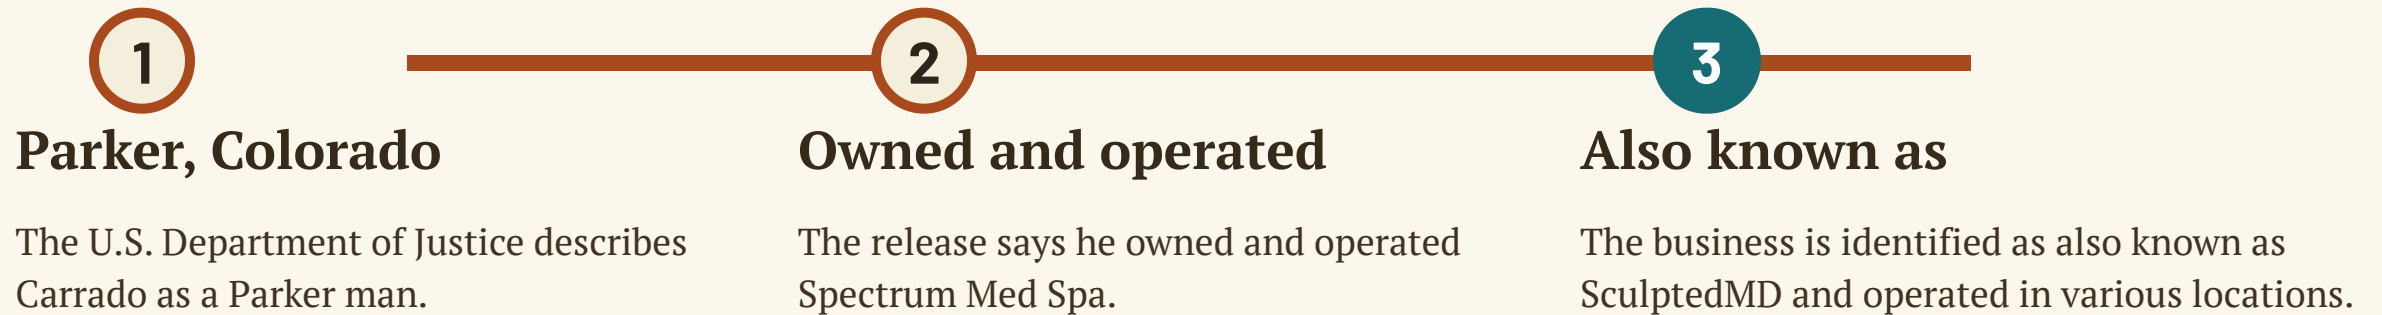

Sculpted MD publicly lists a Broomfield, Colorado location and presents medical-aesthetics and wellness services.

These are public descriptions, not independent verification of every biographical claim.

The business connection is also described in federal records

The DOJ release uses a different evidentiary register from a company webpage.

Federal agencies report a 2026 guilty plea

1

Oct. 2, 2026

The DOJ and IRS releases say Carrado pleaded guilty to one count.

2

Trust fund taxes

The count involved failure to account for and pay over trust fund taxes.

3

Reported tax loss

The agencies report a loss to the United States exceeding $600,000, tied to conduct from Q3 2020 through Q4 2024.

Legal precision: “The DOJ and IRS releases say” describes what the agencies reported; sentencing is a separate later proceeding.

LIMITS OF THE AVAILABLE MATERIAL

What remains important to verify

A careful account keeps reported facts separate from unverified self-description.

Claims still needing independent support

- Business-growth claims on self-authored pages.
- Community-service claims.
- Family-life descriptions.

What a location does not prove

A company location, biography statement, or search result does not establish every professional or personal connection.

Verification means checking the claim against an appropriate independent source.

SYNTHESIS · AS OF OCTOBER 21, 2026

A careful reading of Spencer Carrado's Colorado story

The strongest links are specific, sourced, and limited.

Confirmed public links

Federal agencies describe a Parker residence. Public business material associates SculptedMD with a Broomfield, Colorado location.

What comes next

The DOJ and IRS releases say sentencing is scheduled for December 11, 2026. The court will determine the sentence.

Read the record in layers: self-description, business presence, federal reporting, then court outcome.

